

Mr. Larosa,

Please seek mental health help. That's really all the advice I have for you at this point because you are obsessed and delusional.

No, I will end this pointless communication as I would with a flat earther.

Sincerely,

Mark Evans

Just because your fictional threat is laughable doesn't mean you shouldn't try to press charges.

You know it's all made up and that's why Facebook is the only place you play that game.

You're the threat to the township.

Did you take the attached picture and send it to this guy so he can use it to harass and dox?

Respectfully,

Chuck LaRosa

Mr. Larosa,

Just because you don't want to admit the truth doesn't mean it's not truthful. I can back up everything I state.

There's something wrong with your mental comprehension and actions that I can't explain and that's where I indicate you should seek professional help in my opinion.

You were appointed to a board by trustee Mckee, denied it, and then submitted a resignation for that same board you denied being appointed to. That is just bizarre.

You did threaten to punch me if I came to talk to you. That is not normal civil behavior. That is more of a lunatic that can't stand people not believing his lies.

You have been obsessive in your posts, which are not even factually correct and are easily disproven.

All these are not actions of a stable person. So I would appreciate it if you no longer threaten or harass me. I don't think or worry about you as frankly, someone without integrity, you are irrelevant in the scheme of things.

I'll continue to work for proper administration to be installed in this Township and do what is right for the residents as I have for over six years consistently.

I hope you find peace with whatever troubles you to act as you do.

Sincerely,

Mark Evans

Again, if your excuse for not meeting was anything other than pure fiction, I would be in prison.

That you only make your false claims online is clear indication that you are baiting me into doing or saying something rash.

I believe that is also the reason behind your shameless recent FB attack on my wife.

You won't take it to the prosecutor nor try to press charges because it is all fabricated by you.

I accept your decision, for the second time.

There is no reason for you to continue to attack me

Mr. Larosa,

You have shown, in my opinion, some sort of mental health issues. You have made a previous threat which is documented.

As shown, I am not afraid to engage you on the truth and facts because you come with none. I have proven you false and/or ignorant time and time again.

I prefer to keep my safety in mind when dealing with individuals like you. I still would offer the advice of seeking mental health help.

Sincerely,

Mark Evans

Your denial is noted and accepted.

Of course, if you really are threatened as your claim, you should notify the authorities and file charges.

That you haven't done so speaks volumes to your character.

What you are threatened by of is the FACTS that I would bring to discuss with you

I accept your decision

Mr. LaRosa,

Your request is denied due to your previous physical threat made against me and your obsessive post with a photo of me in front of a gun and bible. You can attend any upcoming trustee meeting where there is a Sheriff Deputy for my and other's safety if you would like to speak.

Sincerely,
